

SILK – Elsemay Björn Symposium

August 18th 2015, FinnMedi 5 Auditorium, Biokatu 12, Tampere

- 12:30 Opening of the Symposium
Hannu Uusitalo, Professor of Ophthalmology, School of Medicine, University of Tampere
- 12:40 Elsemay Björn Lecture
Jost Jonas, Professor of Ophthalmology, Medical Faculty Mannheim of the Ruprecht-Karls-University Heidelberg, Mannheim, Germany
Anatomy of the optic nerve head with respect to trans-lamina cribrosa pressure difference and myopization
- 13:25 Richard Abbott, Professor of Ophthalmology, University of California, San Francisco, USA
Using evidence-based knowledge and clinical data to reduce medical error and improve patient safety: where we have been and where we are going
- Coffee break
- 14:30 Goran Petrovski, Associate Professor of Ophthalmology, University of Szeged, Hungary
Clearance of different dying cells in the retina - molecular crossroads for treating AMD
- 15:05 Antti Jylhä, PhD student, School of Medicine, University of Tampere, Finland
Proteomic biomarkers in eye diseases
- 15:30 Janika Nättinen, PhD student, School of Medicine/BioMediTech, University of Tampere, Finland
Role of bioinformatics in eye proteomics
- 15:55 Closing Remarks
Hannu Uusitalo, Professor of Ophthalmology, School of Medicine, University of Tampere